English Standards of Learning

Curriculum Framework 2010

Grade One

Board of Education, Commonwealth of Virginia
At the first-grade level, students will continue to engage in a variety of oral language activities to develop their understanding of language and to enhance their ability to communicate effectively. They will continue to build vocabulary as they participate in listening and speaking activities in the classroom. They will also begin to use their oral language skills to gain and explain information. In addition, students will continue to develop the higher-level phonemic awareness skills of segmentation, deletion, and substitution.
1.1 The student will continue to demonstrate growth in the use of oral language.
   a) Listen and respond to a variety of electronic media and other age-appropriate materials.
   b) Tell and retell stories and events in logical order.
   c) Participate in a variety of oral language activities, including choral speaking and reciting short poems, rhymes, songs, and stories with repeated patterns.
   d) Participate in creative dramatics.
   e) Express ideas orally in complete sentences.

At the first-grade level, students will continue to be immersed in a print-rich environment. Having developed a concept of word and letter-sound correspondence, students will now concentrate on learning and integrating basic phonetic principles, decoding words in isolation, using meaning clues, and employing language and sentence structure to read and substantially increase their sight-word vocabulary. By the end of the first grade, they should have a reading vocabulary of 300 to 500 commonly used sight words and be able to decode single-syllable words.

These concepts and skills will be learned through systematic explicit direct instruction, individual and small-group activities, and time spent exploring and reading books and other print material. Through reading decodable books, students will build fluency and automaticity in using their knowledge of phonetic principles and print to read. Reading and listening to both fiction and nonfiction texts will give students opportunities to respond to readings in group discussions and through writing and drawing. Through reading and rereading, the students will build fluency and vocabulary and will become independent readers. Students will learn to use their knowledge of alphabetical order by first letter to find the meanings of unfamiliar words in picture and simple word dictionaries.
1.5 The student will apply knowledge of how print is organized and read.
   a) Read from left to right and from top to bottom.
   b) Match spoken words with print.
   c) Identify letters, words, sentences, and ending punctuation.
   d) Read his/her own writing.

1.6 The student will apply phonetic principles to read and spell.

UNDERSTANDING THE STANDARD (Teacher Notes)

- The intent of this standard is that students will continue to learn and apply phonetic principles to decode unfamiliar words.
- Students will learn to apply phonetic skills rather than rely on pictures and context as their primary strategies for decoding words.
- Students blend speech sound units (phonemes) together to produce a word (e.g., /m/-/a/-/n/ → man).
- Students segment words into individual sounds (e.g., man → /m/- /a/- /n/).
- Students will transfer their knowledge of word patterns to identify other words with the same pattern.
- Students will also continue to develop their skill at automatically recognizing commonly used sight words. Students who recognize words automatically spend less time decoding and can pay more attention to comprehending what is being read.
- Onsets are speech sounds (/b/, /j/, /s/, /p/) before a vowel. Rimes are the vowel and what follows (-ack). If a one syllable word begins with a vowel, it has only a rime. Many words

ESSENTIAL UNDERSTANDINGS

All students should
- understand that knowledge of phonetic principles can be applied to read and spell words.

ESSENTIAL KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS, AND PROCESSES

To be successful with this standard, students are expected to
- apply knowledge of letter sounds in single-syllable words by:
  - recognizing beginning, medial, and ending phonemes;
  - segmenting the phonemes in a word into their complete sequence of individual phonemes (e.g., top: /t/-/o/-/p/, jump: /j/-/u/-/m/-/p/); and
  - blending phonemes to decode or spell a word.
- accurately decode unknown unfamiliar, orthographically regular, single-syllable words and nonsense words (e.g., sit, zot), using letter-sound mappings to sound them out.
- apply knowledge of word patterns to decode unfamiliar words by recognizing word patterns (e.g., CVC) using onsets and rimes to create, read, and spell new words that include blends (e.g., the /l and /r blends; and digraphs, including ch, sh, th, and wh).
- use the consonant-vowel patterns CVC (e.g., pin), VC (e.g., in), and CVCC (e.g., wind), to decode and spell single-syllable words.
- use the consonant-vowel patterns CVVC and CVCE to decode and spell some single-syllable words.
- use knowledge that every syllable has a vowel sound to help determine if a word has one or two syllables.
- read and spell simple two-syllable compound words.
- read and spell simple two-syllable compound words following basic patterns by segmenting the words into syllables.
1.6 The student will apply phonetic principles to read and spell.
   a) Use beginning and ending consonants to decode and spell single-syllable words.

STANDARD 1.7  STRAND: READING  GRADE LEVEL 1

1.7 The student will use semantic clues and syntax to expand vocabulary when reading.
   a) Use words, phrases, and sentences.
   b) Use titles and pictures.
   c) Use information in the story to read words.
   d) Use knowledge of sentence structure.
   e) Use knowledge of story structure.
   f) Reread and self-correct.

UNDERSTANDING THE STANDARD
(Teacher Notes)

- The intent of this standard is that students will use semantic clues and syntax to assist in developing an understanding of a text.

- Semantics refer to the meanings of words or sentences. Syntax refers to the rules or conventions for the formation of grammatical sentences. (Note: Students are not expected to know these terms.)

- Students will use pictures as well as the understanding of the story and topic to predict and check for comprehension as they read.

- Students’ knowledge of sentence structure will include understanding that a sentence is a complete idea, which has a subject and a predicate.

- Teacher prompting and scaffolding to direct the student to reread and self-correct will support comprehension.

- Prosody refers to the rhythmic and intonational aspect of language, which should be noticeable during oral reading. Prosody contributes to reading fluency and comprehension.

ESSENTIAL UNDERSTANDINGS

All students should
- understand that they will use a variety of strategies to read unfamiliar words.

ESSENTIAL KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS, AND PROCESSES

To be successful with this standard, students are expected to
- expand vocabulary by using frequently occurring root words to read inflectional forms (e.g., look, looks, looked, looking).
- use sentence-level context as a clue to the meaning of words and phrases.
- use titles and pictures to make predictions about text.
- use pictures and/or rereading to confirm vocabulary choice.
- use information in the story to make predictions about vocabulary and text.
- notice when words or sentences do not make sense in context.
- use intonation, pauses, and emphases that signal the structure of the sentence when reading aloud (prosody).
- use punctuation clues, including period, question mark, exclamation point, commas, and quotation marks, to guide their comprehension.
- use knowledge of story structure (i.e., characters, setting, problem/solution) to guide comprehension.
- reread and self-correct when text does not make sense.

UNDERSTANDING THE STANDARD

Teacher Notes

- The intent of this standard is that students will build fluency and experience success as readers while reading aloud and will begin to develop and demonstrate comprehension skills by reading a variety of fiction and poetry selections.

- Students will demonstrate comprehension of story elements in fiction and poetry selections by identifying the character, setting, and topic or main idea.

- Students will continue to learn to relate their prior knowledge to the topic of the text and use this knowledge and information from the text to make and confirm predictions as well as to ask and answer questions.

- Teachers should read a wide range of fiction and nonfiction texts aloud and explain differences between books that tell stories and books that provide information.

ESSENTIAL UNDERSTANDINGS

All students should

- understand that they should use a variety of strategies to assist with comprehension.
- understand that orally read text has a rhythm and expression that helps convey meaning.

ESSENTIAL KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS, AND PROCESSES

To be successful with this standard, students are expected to

- preview reading material by looking at the book’s cover and illustrations and by reading titles and headings.
- set a purpose for reading by looking at the illustrations, activating prior knowledge, and predicting the outcome of the selection.
- identify who is telling the story at various points in a text.
- use knowledge from their own experience to make sense of and talk about a text.
- draw on prior knowledge to make and confirm predictions before, during, and after reading.
- ask and answer simple questions (e.g., who, what, when, where, why, and how) about a selection.
- identify and describe characters, settings, and important events in a story using details.
- use illustrations and details to describe characters, settings, and important events in a story.
- demonstrate comprehension by retelling stories and events orally or in writing, using beginning, middle, and end structure, and demonstrating comprehension of the central message or lesson.
- identify the main idea or theme of a short fiction selection.

<td>All students should • understand that they should use a variety of strategies to assist with comprehension of nonfiction texts. • understand that orally read text has a rhythm and expression that helps convey meaning.</td>
<td>To be successful with this standard, students are expected to • read with purpose and understanding. • preview reading material by looking at the book’s cover and illustrations or other graphics and by reading titles and headings. • set a purpose for reading by looking at the illustrations or other graphics, activating prior knowledge, and predicting the outcome of the selection. • identify text features (e.g., illustrations, photographs, headings, charts and captions). • use text features to locate facts and information in a text (e.g., headings, tables of contents, glossaries). • distinguish between information provided by pictures or illustrations and information provided by words in the text. • make and confirm predictions before, during, and after reading. • ask and answer simple questions (e.g., who, what, when, where, why, and how) about a selection. • read a wide variety of self-selected and teacher-selected informational texts aloud. • read various nonfiction forms, including letters, lists, recipes, newspapers, and magazines. • identify the main idea and key details of a short nonfiction selection. • identify the reasons an author gives to support points in a text.</td>

At the first-grade level, reading and writing will develop together. Students will be given daily opportunities to write and read their writing. As their knowledge of letter-sound correspondence and their sight-word vocabulary increases, they will be able to use these skills to put their ideas and thoughts on paper. Students need to be encouraged to write for real purposes by writing such things as letters, notes, signs, stories, and labels. At this level, students will concentrate on writing a complete simple sentence, using basic conventions. With teacher guidance and support, they will also begin to revise and edit selected pieces of their writing for a specific audience.
The student will print legibly.
  a) Form letters accurately.
  b) Space words within sentences.
  c) Use the alphabetic code to write unknown words phonetically.

UNDERSTANDING THE STANDARD (Teacher Notes)

- Students need explicit, direct instruction in order to learn to form uppercase and lowercase letters correctly.
- Students also need many purposeful opportunities to develop sound-symbol correspondence while practicing and mastering handwriting skills.
- Students need to develop their understanding that each speech sound or phoneme of language has its own distinctive graphic representation. This is referred to as the alphabetic principle.

ESSENTIAL UNDERSTANDINGS
- All students should
  - understand that there are correct ways to write the letters of the alphabet and that proper spacing is necessary in order for writing to be legible.
  - understand sound-symbol correspondence in writing unfamiliar words.
