English Standards of Learning
Curriculum Framework 2010

Kindergarten

Board of Education, Commonwealth of Virginia
At the kindergarten level, students will engage in a variety of oral language activities in order to develop their understanding of language and enhance their ability to communicate effectively. Of primary importance is the development of phonological awareness, which is essential for success in literacy. Emphasis will be placed on having the students build and use listening and speaking vocabularies through participation in oral language activities employing poems, rhymes, songs, and stories. Students will learn rules for conversation and skills for participation in discussions. They will also learn how to formulate basic investigative questions.
K.1 The student will demonstrate growth in the use of oral language.
   a) Listen to a variety of literary forms, including stories and poems.
   b) Participate in a variety of oral language activities including choral and echo speaking and recitation of short poems, rhymes, songs, and stories with repeated word order patterns.
   c) Participate in oral generation of language experience narratives.
   d) Participate in creative dramatics.
   e) Use complete sentences that include subject, verb, and object.

|   • generate ideas to develop a group language experience narrative. |
|   • dictate sentences about a group experience for a group language experience narrative (e.g., a story about a class field trip). |
|   • dictate an experience or story to create an individual language experience narrative (e.g., a story about a family pet). |
|   • use drama to retell familiar stories, rhymes, and poems (e.g., storytelling with role play or puppets). |
|   • participate in creative dramatics, such as classroom songs, plays, skits, and group activities designed to give students frequent opportunities for listening and speaking. |
|   • use complete sentences that include subject, verb, and object when speaking. |
K.2 The student will expand understanding and use of word meanings.

a) Increase listening and speaking vocabularies.
b) Use number words.
c) Use words to describe/name people, places, and things.
d) Use words to describe/name location, size, color, and shape.
e) Use words to describe/name actions.
f) Ask about words not understood.
g) Use vocabulary from other content areas.

K.3 The student will build oral communication skills.
  a) Express ideas in complete sentences and express needs through direct requests.
  b) Begin to initiate conversations.
  c) Begin to follow implicit rules for conversation, including taking turns and staying on topic.
  d) Listen and speak in informal conversations with peers and adults.
  e) Participate in group and partner discussions about various texts and topics.
  f) Begin to use voice level, phrasing, and intonation appropriate for various language situations.
  g) Follow one- and two-step directions.
  h) Begin to ask how and why questions.

- The intent of this standard is that students will build oral communication skills within a language-rich environment through a variety of experiences.
- With teacher support students generate how and why questions across curricula and begin to use these questions to guide their search for answers.
- In various group settings, students should have opportunities to initiate informal conversations with peers and adults, learning and practicing implicit rules for conversation (e.g., voice level and intonation appropriate for specific language situations).

To be successful with this standard, students are expected to
- speak audibly in complete sentences, expressing thoughts, feelings and ideas clearly.
- verbally express needs through direct requests.
- participate in a range of collaborative discussions building on others’ ideas and clearly expressing their own (e.g., one-on-one, small group, teacher-led).
- initiate conversations with peers and teachers in a variety of school settings.
- listen attentively to others in a variety of formal and informal settings involving peers and adults.
- participate in partner or group activities, (i.e., conversations, discussions, book chats, retellings of stories, choral speaking, language experience narratives, morning routines, dramatizations and role play).
- listen to and discuss a variety of texts that reflect the Virginia Standards of Learning in English, history and social science, science, and mathematics.
- wait for their turn to speak, allowing others to speak without unnecessary interruptions.
- maintain conversation on topic through multiple exchanges.
- in group and partner discussions clearly state a thought related to the book or topic being discussed.

K.4 The student will identify, say, segment, and blend various units of speech sounds.
   a) Begin to discriminate between spoken sentences, words, and syllables.
   b) Identify and produce words that rhyme.
   c) Blend and segment multisyllabic words at the syllable level.
   d) Segment one-syllable words into speech sound units including beginning phoneme(s) (onset) and ending (rimes).
   e) Identify words according to shared beginning and/or ending sounds.

UNDERSTANDING THE STANDARD

- The intent of this standard is that students will focus on various units of speech sounds in words.
- This skill includes an understanding of the hierarchical concepts of sentence, word, syllable, and letter. Consequently, students need to demonstrate the ability to segment a sentence orally into individual words and to segment individual words into individual syllables and sounds.
- Phonological awareness is the term used to describe a student’s understanding that spoken words consist of sounds. Students who are phonologically aware demonstrate an ability to hear and manipulate the sound structure of language at each of the word, syllable and phoneme (individual sound) levels.
- Phonological awareness typically progresses in a developmental continuum, (i.e., rhyming → sentence segmenting → syllable blending/segmenting → syllable splitting [onset and rime blending/segmenting] → phoneme blending, segmenting, and manipulating).
- Students who are phonemically aware are able to attend to the individual phonemes of spoken language by demonstrating the higher-order ability to blend, segment and manipulate them.

ESSENTIAL UNDERSTANDINGS

- All students should
  - understand that words are made up of small units of sound and that these sounds can be blended to make a word.
  - understand that words are made up of syllables.
  - understand that a spoken sentence is made up of individual words.

ESSENTIAL KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS, AND PROCESSES

To be successful with this standard, students are expected to

- focus on speech sounds.
- demonstrate the concept of word by segmenting spoken sentences into individual words.
- segment a word into individual syllables by clapping hands or snapping fingers.
- discriminate between large phonological units of running speech, sentences, words, and syllables.
- identify a word that rhymes with a spoken word.
- produce rhyming words and recognize pairs of rhyming words presented orally.
- generate rhyming words based on a given rhyming pattern.
- supply an appropriate rhyming word to complete a familiar nursery rhyme or a predictable text with rhyming lines.
- blend and segment consonants and rimes of spoken words (e.g., /b/-/oat/ = boat, black = /bl/-/ack/).
- blend and segment multisyllabic words into syllables (e.g., the teacher asks students to say robot without the /ro-/ and students respond with /bot/).
- recognize a word can be segmented into individual speech sound units.
- recognize how phonemes sound when spoken in isolation.
- recognize similarities and differences in beginning and ending sounds of words.

| Students orally blend speech sound units (phonemes) together to make a word (e.g., /m/-/a/-/n/ → man). | determine the order of speech sounds in a given word by answering the following questions:
° What is the beginning sound you hear?
° What is the ending sound you hear? | produce a word that has the same beginning or ending sound as a spoken word (e.g., /sock/-/sun/ and /hot/-/rat/). |
| Students segment spoken words into individual sounds (e.g., man → /m/- /a/- /n/). | Understanding rhyme allows students to generate new words from a known word (e.g., if the student knows the word “fun,” then he/she can orally produce the word “run.”) It is more difficult to produce a rhyme than to identify a rhyme when presented orally. | identify pictures of objects whose names share the same beginning or ending sound. |
| Understanding rhyme allows students to generate new words from a known word (e.g., if the student knows the word “fun,” then he/she can orally produce the word “run.”) It is more difficult to produce a rhyme than to identify a rhyme when presented orally. | sort pictures or objects whose names share the same beginning or ending sound. | blend three spoken phonemes to make words (e.g., the teacher says /c/-/a/-/t/, and the student blends the phonemes to say the word cat). |
| Syllables are units of speech that consist of a vowel preceded and/or followed by consonants. Each time a syllable is produced, the mouth opens and closes. Each syllable spoken consists of a single rhythmic beat (e.g., the word absent has two syllables: ab/sent). | segment one-syllable words into onset and rime (e.g., the teacher says the word hat and when asked, the student verbally says /h/ for the onset and /at/ for the rime.) Students are not expected to know the terms onset and rime. | segment one-syllable words into speech sound units (e.g., the teacher says the word bat, and the student segments the sounds /b/- /a/- /t/). |
| Phonemes are the smallest units of sound in spoken language. | The ability to segment and blend phonemes facilitates spelling and decoding. | substitute the beginning consonant to make a new word (e.g., the teacher asks the student to say cat, but in the place of /c/ she asks them to say /b/, and the student responds with bat). |
| Through many learning experiences with songs, rhymes, and language play, students will develop the ability to hear, produce, and manipulate phonemes. | | |

At the kindergarten level, students will be immersed in a print-rich environment. They will learn the concepts of print, basic phonetic principles, comprehension of stories, and letter identification skills through systematic, direct instruction, individual and small group activities, and time spent exploring and reading books and other print material. Students will learn to identify and name the uppercase and lowercase letters of the alphabet, understand that letters represent sounds, and identify beginning consonant sounds in single consonant words. They will also learn to comprehend and relate stories through drama, retelling, drawing, and their own writing.
K.5 The student will understand how print is organized and read.
   a) Hold print materials in the correct position.
   b) Identify the front cover, back cover, and title page of a book.
   c) Distinguish between print and pictures.
   d) Follow words from left to right and from top to bottom on a printed page.
   e) Match voice with print (concept of word).

K.7 The student will develop an understanding of basic phonetic principles.
   a) Identify and name the uppercase and lowercase letters of the alphabet.
   b) Match consonant, short vowel, and initial consonant digraph sounds to appropriate letters.
   c) Demonstrate a speech-to-print match through accurate finger-point reading in familiar text that includes words with more than one syllable.
   d) Identify beginning consonant sounds in single-syllable words.

UNDERSTANDING THE STANDARD

(Teacher Notes)

- The intent of this standard is that students will develop an understanding of basic phonetic principles.
- Phonetic skills are the foundation for decoding and encoding words — i.e., they are the basic skills needed to develop fluency and automaticity in reading and writing.
- A digraph is the spelling of one sound using two letters. Digraphs can spell consonant sounds (e.g., sh, ch, th, ng) or vowel sounds (e.g., ai, ay, ee, ea, oo, ow, ey, oi, oy, au, aw).

ESSENTIAL UNDERSTANDINGS

- All students should
  - understand that there is a one-to-one correspondence between spoken and written words.
  - understand that written words are composed of letters that represent specific sounds.

ESSENTIAL KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS, AND PROCESSES

To be successful with this standard, students are expected to

- recognize and name rapidly and with ease uppercase and lowercase letters in sequence and in random order.
- match uppercase and lowercase letter pairs.
- produce the usual sounds of consonants, short vowels and initial consonant digraphs.
- demonstrate concept of word by:
  - tracking familiar print from left to right and top to bottom; and
  - matching spoken words to print including words with more than one syllable.
- write the grapheme (letter) that represents a spoken sound.
- use basic knowledge of one-to-one letter-sound correspondences by producing sounds for each consonant.
- isolate initial consonants in single-syllable words (e.g., /t/ is the first sound in top).
- identify long and short sounds with common spellings for the five major vowels.
- distinguish between similarly spelled words by identifying sounds of the letters that differ.
- segment onsets and rimes and begin to blend to form the words.
K.8 The student will expand vocabulary.
   a) Discuss meanings of words.
   b) Develop vocabulary by listening to a variety of texts read aloud.

At the kindergarten level, students will begin to build a connection between oral and written language. Awareness that spoken language can be written and written language can be read is a fundamental concept in communicating ideas. Students will learn to print the uppercase and lowercase letters of the alphabet as well as their first and last names. Kindergarten writing reflects the students’ oral language. Students will communicate their ideas through drawings, scribbles, letter strings, letter approximations, and dictation to adults.

K.12 The student will write to communicate ideas for a variety of purposes.

a) Differentiate pictures from writing.
b) Draw pictures and/or use letters and phonetically spelled words to write about experiences.
c) Use letters and beginning consonant sounds to spell phonetically words to describe pictures or write about experiences.
d) Write left to right and top to bottom.

UNDERSTANDING THE STANDARD

The intent of this standard is that students will understand that writing is used for a variety of purposes, including sharing events and telling stories (narrative writing), informing others and making reports (informational writing), labeling and making lists (functional writing), and responding to literature.

Writing in kindergarten prepares students for more formalized writing styles in subsequent grades.

Students will draw upon their growing phonetic knowledge to spell words using letters and beginning consonant sounds when describing pictures or writing about experiences.

Beginning writings may include drawings, letter strings, scribbles, letter approximations, and other graphic representations, as well as phonetically spelled words.

ESSENTIAL UNDERSTANDINGS

All students should understand that their writing serves a variety of purposes.

ESSENTIAL KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS, AND PROCESSES

To be successful with this standard, students are expected to:

- distinguish print from pictures.
- write daily for a variety of purposes (e.g., practicing formation of alphabet letters, labeling, and journal writing).
- write on assigned and/or self-selected topics.
- use writing, dictation, and drawing to compose informative/explanatory texts that introduce a topic (what they are writing about), state an opinion or some facts and provide some information (e.g., My favorite book is …).
- use writing, dictation, and drawing to narrate an event.
- generate text to communicate and make meaning by creating drawings, letter strings, scribbles, letter approximations, or other graphic representations, as well as phonetically spelled words.
- write left to right and top to bottom.
K.13 The student will use available technology for reading and writing.
