

Past and Present

Communities in the Past

In the past communities were smaller than they are today.

Communities in the past had fewer people.

Communities in the Present

Communities today are larger than communities in the past.

Today, communities have more people living in them.